SaveWealth.com Wraps Up Another Successful Tax Season

CARLSBAD, CA - May 1, 2001 – SaveWealth.com™ has wrapped up another successful tax season, and is celebrating by giving away a “tax escape” for two to Hawaii.

SaveWealth also unveiled revised figures from its successful Tax Form Center. The number of taxpayers who downloaded free tax forms and instructions for the 2000 tax season surpassed last year’s traffic, increasing by nearly two-fold.

The 2000 tax season marks the third year that SaveWealth has hosted its Tax Form Center. Even though April 16th has come and gone, the SaveWealth Tax Center remains open throughout the year with 2001 income tax rates, quarterly estimated tax forms, and timely publications on reducing taxes. Visitors can also review an updated version of the 31 Tax Breaks for 2001 to help minimize next year’s tax bill.

“Our new tax tools and improved navigation helped to make this our most successful tax season ever,” noted Scott Carr, Director of SaveWealth.com. “Even with the end of tax season, we’re beginning to map out even more services and tax forms for the 2001 tax season. Our goal is to help every visitor reduce taxes this year before April 15 rolls around again.”

The closure of the 2000 tax season doesn’t mean 2000 tax forms are disappearing. Taxpayers that filed extensions can still find a full library of 2000 tax forms to meet the August 15th deadline. In the coming months, 2001 tax forms will also make their debut, as estimated tax forms and W-2 forms are released by the Internal Revenue Service.

SaveWealth.com is celebrating the close of the 2000 tax year with the SaveWealth Travel Tax Break Sweepstakes. The grand prize will send two lucky taxpayers on a 6 day, 5 night getaway to the sunny beaches of Hawaii. The Tax Break Sweepstakes will also be awarding twenty 20 runner up prizes consisting of Travel Pouches.
